GEORGE O. BARNES.

God is Love and Nothing Else.

PRAISE THE LORD.

This is the month for planting. Happily our "rest" month also. By the time March sets in, with its incomparable softness of climate, in this favored latitude, we shall have utilized our "rest" by putting in hundreds of lime, guava, lemon and orange trees; with bananas and pineapples in abundance. I am persuaded the orange will flourish here, despite the opinion of some that salt air is not good for them. The finest oranges in Florida grow near Punta Gorda, in near proximity to that objectionable feature. Only I shall carefully cut the tap-root off to about one foot. The orange sends its "tap" an incredible distance down into a dry soil in search of moisture; but here, of course, with water within 3 feet, the surface roots must be the only ones called into requisition. All the other fruits do well here, as also the coconut, which is as like the cabbage palm at a distance as "two peas in a pod."

I wish I could people this lovely spot with about 50 folk I could select in Kentucky. If they were only on the spot, they would remain; but before they can make up their minds to "pull up stakes" and come, it will be too late for home-planting.

Sanibel means, I presume, "Saint Isabel," in short metre. The cape at the light-house is a still more barbarous abbreviation of that feminine cognomen—"Ybel."

It is too early to say whether we will be in Kentucky this summer. We may not, or we may, as "seems best."

Our party went in bathing a day or two ago; as one can, with comfort, all the year round, in this tepid latitude. They went to try their new bathing suits, rather than because of hankering after the water; but they enjoyed the bracing splash very much.

Our "properties" lie, on one side, along a mile of the finest beach, 50 or 60 yards in width, and strewn with millions of the most exquisite shells that one can imagine. The surf breaks, ceaselessly, on that snowy strand. The harbors are all on the north side of the island. The Gulf surf bathing is incomparable. Fine bits of beach are also scattered along the north side, or San Carlos Bay, where one can take it more quietly. The fishing is unsurpassed on earth, and the varieties of the finny tribe most wonderful. We can live on fish and oysters, the latter No. 1, the year round. And this is the best diet for the climate. All tell us to eat little meat and we need fear no malady whatever. Everybody looks robust and healthy here. I am sure it is a far better climate than our loved and lovely Kentucky, "taken up one side and down the other."

I know, positively, no drawback, but the mosquitoes. We must bring the appliances to bear on them. If any friend can suggest anything beyond the stifling mosquito-bar, we shall be grateful. Jack brought an ointment from Kentucky with him that some one recommended as good for them, or bad for them, rather, and he thinks it promises the best results. At present they are the drop of gall in our cup of comfort. They seem hardly worthy of serious mention, where so many favorable features abound. But that festive insect is strong beyond its size. Their tiny buzz is almost as formidable to me as the screech of a wild-cat.

Ever in Jesus, GEO. O. BARNES.

SANIBEL ISLAND, LEE CO., FLA., FEB. 29, 1889.

DEAR INTERIOR—A cold northeast wind, sending the rain in horizontal sheets and curling the white-caps on San Carlos Bay, furnishes the occasion of this letter, which would certainly not be written in the present crisis, were we not confined to the house.

For we are rushing to put "Prairie Cottage," or "Palm Ranch," we haven't decided which, into a habitable condition. Will and Mr. Boole, our carpenter, finished the roof yesterday and we hoped to move to-day from the hospitable roof of our German friend, Woodring, where we have been in comfortable quarters since our arrival on the island. We only rent rooms from him, doing our own cooking and general housekeeping.

The Tea Tephi has been dismissed, since the 15th and is in Punta Gorda. Julius is gone, and we are thrown wholly on our own resources. All of our little party have shown themselves equal to the emergency. The ladies, one and all, are notable cooks; Will Ferguson and John mighty anglers; while the Deacon's strong muscles and ingenuity in handling tools have flown in the channel of house-building, with cheerful spontaneity. I am general manager, self-elected, but gracefully obeyed to date; with no prospect of a "strike" in the near future.

Our new cottage is about four miles from where we lodge. Mr. Boole, Will and I make that distance, and back, daily. It is rather laborious, but hardens muscle amazingly. It annihilates superfluous flesh. So I am much thinner than when we began, but what is left is solid.

We walk along the beach on the San Carlos, or northern side of the island, taking advantage of the firm sandy margin, where it is left uncovered by the restless tide; and where it is too wet, taking the Bay most of the way down to what we call the "lumber landing," whence the islanders take their departure inland, for their respective farms.

A glance at the map will show the general shape of Sanibel to be not unlike a Greenlander's "kyak," the inner curve, San Carlos Bay, a lovely sheet of water; the outer curve, the Gulf of Mexico. The light-house is at the eastern extremity. Mr. Woodring's about four miles west, on San Carlos. The lumber landing and bay terminus of the present road, running up the island, is about 3 miles from Woodring's and one from the light-house. Prairie Cottage, or Palm Ranch, is about one mile and a quarter from the landing.

We were favored from the very start. Mr. Woodring had a lot of lumber that he had one time purposed building with; but changed his mind. It was just what we wanted. So we bought the whole instant. Then the gentleman who does the surveying for the new settlers had a yoke of gaunt oxen and a homely, but strong wagon, which he was willing to dispose of at a bargain. These we purchased also. The Tea Tephi transported our house-building material to the lumber landing before we dismissed her; and also brought an additional supply from the saw-mill at Fort Myers, 25 miles up the Caloosahatchie river. Then we were ready for work.

It is just two weeks since the carpentering began and one house is ready for occupation. Two rooms 10x12 feet, in a "state of nature," but tight and well covered. The kitchen is to be furnished after we move in. Cooking meanwhile to be done under the house, where, also, we are preparing to have our religious services. A "church under the house" a thing unknown to Scripture, tho' the "church that is in the house" is. Ours has a clear 7 feet from bottom to top; the ground covered with the pure white shells, so common here, and so admired in less favored localities. The room is 12x20 feet, and ample for the present population of Sanibel. Marie talks of putting up a more pretentious place of worship on her estate, in future; but this will do "for the present distress."

This under-house arrangement is secured by having our two rooms as kitchen also, when completed, perched on stout pine posts, set 3 feet in the ground and 7 feet out. The general appearance is not so ungraceful as one might suppose. Indeed we can so fix things as to make the arrangement quite ornamental. This elevation is supposed to give a vantage ground in repelling the attacks of mosquitoes. We are willing to try anything that promises even partial exemption from these ferocious insects. Apart from this rather exceptional altitude in building, everything in the North is lifted above mother earth. Our Northern methods of placing our houses in contact with the ground, is esteemed very unwholesome here. A free circulation of air under the dwelling is deemed indispensable to health.

Sanibel ought to be a favored spot, if the clergy can bring blessing to it. The first homestead on the prairie is that of Rev. Wren (pronounced Vercain) a Lutheran minister, Swiss by birth, with an interesting family, wife and four lovely children. Then Bro. Barnes, evangelist. Then Rev. Fitzhugh, P. E. clergyman. Then Will, another of the same Church, "rather reverend," being only a deacon yet. And yet another preacher, a little further on. Quite a string of us, isn't there? I hope we shall prove a blessing to present and prospective Sanibel islanders.

Accompany us as we walk to work—Will and I—and I think we can point out several things that will interest and edify.

Mr. Woodring has nearly a mile of attractive beach on his homestead. He has, perhaps, the best location on the island, all things considered. The landlocked harbor, just to the west of his house, with deep water and semi-circular beach, is very fine. Then to the east as we journey towards the lumber landing, he has many attractive points, with superb outlook across San Carlos and Punta Rassa and St. James City in full view. Both these "cities" are only stopping places for tourists, with a hotel and large store comprising the bulk of improvements. P. R., in addition, is the terminus of the Cuba cable and a shipping point of cattle that are fattened on the grazing grounds of the Caloosahatchie, for the Key West trade. The string of green islets between St. James and P. R. are very picturesque.

To be Continued.

The next meeting of The Kentucky State Medical Society will occur at Richmond, May 8-10.

HUSTONVILLE.

—Mrs. Dodd died Wednesday at the home of her son-in-law, Mr. Jesse P. Riffe, aged about 80 years. She has lived in the county during a long and active pilgrimage. Left early a widow with four daughters, she devoted her best energies to their welfare, and lived to see her efforts successful in a high degree. Thus another of the grand old line of Lincoln county mothers "rests from her labors; and her works do follow her."

—Dr. Alcorn is not the only one who has noted the unwonted pallor of the usually bold and brilliant INTERIOR JOURNAL. A week ago the staid and dignified L. B. Adams said to me: "Tell Mr. Walton that I cannot consent to 'boom the bustle' at the expense of my favorite paper, and that I am willing a tax should be levied pro rata on all the readers of the INTERIOR for the creation of a permanent 'bustle fund,' to be sacredly set apart for the improvement of the symmetry of the female form."

—We see by a clipping from a Kansas City paper that Mrs. Ann Chrisman, wife of Wm. Chrisman, Esq., and daughter of George Lee, Sr., formerly of this county, died some days since at Independence, Mo. Shortly after his marriage Mr. C. then a promising young lawyer, settled in western Missouri, where he soon built up a lucrative practice and accumulated a fine fortune. A short time before the death of his wife his residence, said to have been one of the finest in Independence, was consumed by fire, involving a loss of some $50,000.

—Shack Huffman is home from Harrodsburg. Miss Mary Adams, who has been spending several months with relatives in Alabama, has returned. Miss Nannie Reed and Mr. D. Mahan, of Boyle county, Mrs. Fishback and daughters, of Danville, Miss Jean Buchanan, of Crab Orchard, Miss Maggie Mitchell, of Taylorville, George Dunn, of Stanford, "Rex" Reid, Junction City, Mr. G. J. Wright, Cadara, and R. J. Tuttle, Birmingham, Alabama, were here at the wedding. Miss Helen Reid, Sallie Cook and Lou Hocker have returned from a visit to Danville. Miss Belle Cook is visiting at Lancaster.

—The Adams-Logan wedding, which came off Wednesday morning, was one of the nicest affairs of the kind we have witnessed. Mr. J. B. Adams, the principal, supported by Messrs. G. J. Wright and R. J. Tuttle, all of Alabama, arrived on Tuesday. As it was necessary to be prepared for an early start in the morning, a reception was tendered at Mr. Hugh Logan's, father of the bride, that evening. Here the numerous friends of "Miss Clo" assembled and a delightful evening was passed, including the two essentials of a Hustonville celebration, to-wit: a sumptuous feast and a lively dance. At 10:30 a. m. Wednesday the company re-assembled to witness the bridal ceremony. The piano, obedient to the skilful touch of Miss Bradley, sounded the notes of the inevitable wedding march, and the party entered and took their stations—Mr. Wright and Miss Mitchell, Mr. Tuttle and Miss Buchanan, Mr. W. S. Drye and Miss Eliza Kennedy and Mr. Adams and Miss Logan. While the knot was being tied Miss Julia adroitly touched the keys to the appropriate air of "Call me Thine Own." Immediately after the ceremony the happy pair, accompanied by a large party of friends, left for Junction City, the former to visit New Orleans, Pensacola, &c. Mr. Adams has taken one of our most popular young ladies, but judging from the very favorable impression made by him, and his friends who came with him, we predict for the new Mrs. Adams a happy home in the "Sunny South."

—The president vetoed the bill to pension William Barney, of Richmond. Barney accidentally shot himself while returning to his command from a visit to his family. Both houses of Congress thought it a meritorious case, but the President says the government is not an "Accident Insurance Company."

—The capacity of the hall in the Pension building, in which the inauguration ball will be held, is 13,000 persons. During the Cleveland ball, in 1884, 8,000 people passed in the gates, and yet there was ample room for dancing and promenading. It took two bands—the Marine Band, of Washington, 190 pieces, and the great Germania Orchestra, of Philadelphia, to furnish the music.

—Few who look upon the tottering form and wavering glance of ex-Senator McCreery, on the occasions when he is seen on the streets, accompanied always by one of his devoted daughters, and so weak that he is helped with difficulty in and out of his carriage, but feel a keen regret that the blight of paralysis should have fallen upon a mind and body once so vigorous and athletic. His mind is fast failing and his wonderful memory nearly gone.—Owensboro Inquirer.

THE K. P. A.

It Will Meet at Owensboro June 6th, with a Big Programme.

Our representative at the Louisville meeting reports as follows: The Executive Committee met at the Galt House Tuesday evening in answer to a call made by Chairman Urey Woodson, editor of the Owensboro Messenger, to attend to business connected with the Kentucky Press Association and to arrange a programme for its next meeting, which convenes at Owensboro Thursday, June 6th. The Committee is composed of Urey Woodson, E. G. Logan, Louisville Times, John W. Lyne, Henderson Journal, J. W. Hopper, Courier-Journal, E. Polk Johnson, Frankfort Capital, John A. Bell, Georgetown Times and W. P. Walton, INTERIOR JOURNAL. All were present save the last two mentioned and the latter, who was unable to attend, was represented by his brother, E. C. Walton. After caucusing on several questions business began. Mr. Logan's motion to leave the matter of selecting members to read papers to Chairman Woodson was carried. It was also agreed that Mr. Woodson select the subjects of papers to be read and correspond with the members appointed to discuss them. Mr. Logan in a talk to the Committee recommended that the manuscript left by the late Wallace Gruelle, a romance of the early history of Kentucky, and published by the Press of Kentucky and that each paper pay a minimum cost of, say $10, for the privilege of using it, the proceeds to go to Mr. Gruelle's widow. Motions were made by Mr. Woodson that Messrs. Jas. R. Bettis, of the National Editorial Association, and R. B. Herbert, editor of the National Journal, be invited to attend the association at Owensboro. This was also agreed upon. It was very emphatically decided by the committee that none but legitimate editors and business managers be admitted to membership of the association. This was done to prevent the usual number of dead-heads which are always on hand whenever a session is called from crowding to the front. The question as to whether wines be put on the bill-of-fare at the banquet was discussed, but was finally set aside and left to the Owensboro people to do as they choose in regard to it. The programme for the meeting on June 6th at Owensboro is as follows: Business meeting at 1:30 p. m. for election of officers, reading papers, etc. Address of welcome by R.uben A. Miller, of Frankfort, at 7:30. Response by President E. Polk Johnson; oration by Emmett G. Logan and poem by John G. Craddock. Friday morning and evening devoted to business meetings and at night banquet, followed by a ball. Saturday morning the body en masse leave on a special train for Mammoth Cave, where after taking in the sights there, the meeting will be said to end. The convention then adjourned. Mr. Forrester, of the Louisville Commercial, was present and represented that paper.

—HUBBLE.—Dave Spoonamore sold his brown horse for $125 and one mule to the Fox boys for $150. Wm. Blanks bought of John Bourne one On Time filly, three years old, for $110. Mr. Henry White is moving to Versailles. Miss Fannie Scope is visiting Mary Gully. G. A. Swinebrod swapped for a fine saddle horse recently and will exhibit him to the public at various points as soon as he gets him thoroughly trained. James Cox and Engleman have shipped the last of their tobacco to Louisville. Wallace Varion tells us in a private letter that he is a candidate for county attorney in Lincoln county. The INTERIOR JOURNAL has the largest subscription of any paper at this office, though they went around the world last week and arrived here late Saturday evening. The P. M. at Danville and elsewhere will please send our next papers here and let us examine them before sending them on. Henry Cox can show the first mule colt this season. Bud Cox bought Jas. Wilnot's pony for $30. Prof. Eddy, of Danville, writes us he will be along letting stock to extend a telephone from Danville to Lancaster. The stock shares will be about $5 and will all amount to about $200. It has proved a great investment from Danville to Harrodsburg. H. J. Luce is visiting friends at Nicholasville.

—Mama's Gittin' Better.—There is gladness in the household; The shadow fades away That darkened all the sunshine Of many a summer day. "Oh, mama's getting better," The happy children cry, And the light of hope shines bright again In the loving husband's eye. In thousands of homes women are "sick unto death" with the terrible diseases so common to their sex, and it would seem as if all of happiness had gone out of life and the household in consequence. For when the wife and mother suffers all the family suffers with her. This ought not to be, and it need not be, for a never-failing remedy for woman's ailments is at hand. Many a home has been made happy because the shadow of disease has been banished from it by the potent power of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—the untailing remedy for all weaknesses and diseases peculiar to women.

CONCERNING the two disputed West Virginia districts to the democrats, the republicans will have but three majority in the House and the difficulty of organizing with so small a margin, from which must be deducted two members unable to attend, has had the very decided effect of modifying the desire for an extra session immediately after the 4th of March. The more thoughtful of the republicans prefer to wait till the regular session in December, by which time the new states will have held elections and added at least four to their majority. The four will elect five Congressmen and of the number four are conceded to the republicans. The democrats having learned a thing or two from their opponents, have determined to follow their lead, and filibuster on every contested election case, so our friends, the enemy, begin to see that they will not have everything in a sling as they calculated upon shortly after the flush of victory in November.

EDITOR BOSLEY, of the Winchester Sun, albeit a republican, has no sympathy whatever with Chandler and his sore ear. He has posed as a warrior for years and said more coarse and abusive things about Southern outrages and Bourbon insolence than any other man in the North, and if he now permits the indignity that has been heaped upon him to go unpunished, all New England should rise and denounce him as a craven. Says Bosley, very sensibly: "Let Chandler fight, make Blackburn apologize or forever shut his mouth. We are tired of these Northern republican brothers, who fight Southerners at long range, but decline a hand-to-hand set-to. All this investigating Southern election outrages is bosh. Let the South alone and keep the North good and solid republican."

Down at Glasgow the other night, Miss Lavinia Shannon rendered "Lady Audley's Secret" to a "large and intelligent audience." The play passed satisfactorily and ended of course with the death of Lady Audley. The curtain fell on a most realistic scene and the audience should have taken itself out, but it didn't. It sat there and continued to sit till one of the actors, says the Times, realized the ludicrousness of the situation and stepping before the curtain said: "Ladies and gentlemen, in consequence of the death of Lady A., it will be impossible to continue the play." Bro. Richardson should see to it that the programmes are printed hereafter at the proper point: "The audience will now depart."

The streets along the line of the inaugural procession in Washington are almost a solid amphitheatre. The thrifty property holders have built seats in front of their houses and they are disposing of them to those who are fools enough to buy them at from $1 to $5 a seat. Senator Stanford, of California, who has more money than brains, has paid $500 for the rooms and windows of a prominent corner for himself and friends. The ceremonies of the day are to be as gorgeous as the money of the republican millionaires can make it and the return of the radicals to power celebrated in true year of jubilee jubilation.

The return of Robert W. Brown from Indianapolis, where he has been stationed as special correspondent of the Courier-Journal, has caused another shake up in the editorial force of that paper. He resumes the city editorship, Mr. Joe Altschler, who has been in charge of that department, succeeding to Col. Chilton's position, which has been filled since his misfortune by Mr. Charles H. Greathouse, who goes back to his place as an exchange editor. Col. W. M. Hall, who has been doing the exchange work, goes back to his "In and About Kentucky" and the rural roosters are crowing for joy.

The public didn't seem to care about the fuss between the Masonic Temple and Macauley's over Mary Anderson, for people crowded to see her at $3 to $5 a seat. Bourlier tried to enjoin her from playing at the latter, when she had contracted with him to do so at the former, but the court only required her to give security for $10,000, sufficient to cover any possible damage that he might sustain. Miss Anderson no doubt felt the cockles of her callous heart warm a little to see a $3,500 house greet her at her old home, and she ought to have felt proud, if she did not.

The Lexington Gazette says a teacher in one of the public schools there gave out the word "dictate" to be spelled and defined. A bright little fellow jumped up and responded: "D-i-c-k Dick, T-a-t-e Tate, Dick Tate—the man that ran away from Frankfurt!" thus showing he was better acquainted with the events of the day than with glossology.

Is bidding adieu to his friends at Indianapolis, Gen. Harrison got off this stilted sentence: "There is a great sense of loneliness in the discharge of high public duties. The moment of decision is one of isolation." He ought to have gotten Lige Halford to furnish a diagram explanatory of such remarkable wisdom.

The Egyptians after their seven years' wrestle with a grievous famine, were not half as hungry as the horde of radicals, who have had to shift for themselves for the last four years. Some of them have found the grazing mighty thin and their mouths are watering for green pastures, but we hope many of them will have to chew the cud of disappointment. The fact that they have held office once seems in their opinion to entitle them to a hand in the new deal, but it looks to an outsider that another lot ought to be given a chance at least to suck the governmental teat. The younger men and the negro deserve some recognition and they ought and doubtless will raise a row if they fail to get it. There's going to be a terrific onslaught of the spoils-men and if Gen. Harrison does not follow in the footsteps of his illustrious grandfather and die within a month after assuming the reins of government, he will almost wish that he had before this good year of our Lord is ended.

For reasons satisfactory to himself, Mr. James R. Marrs has withdrawn from the editorship of the Danville Advocate which for 24 years he has made the model country paper in tone, character and typography. A gentleman in the truest sense, conservative in disposition and possessing in the keenest sense the knowledge of the relation of the journalist to the public, he has elevated his profession and won for himself lasting friends both in and out of it. We regret to part with him even for a season, as our relations have almost without exception been of the most amicable nature, notwithstanding his paper was our only acknowledged competitor. Mr. H. E. Wolfolk succeeds to the editorship of the Advocate and promises to keep the paper to its high standard. He has had good training and much experience and his ability to do so is unquestioned. Here's looking at him.

KENNEY, a miserable little creature from Ohio, brought himself into a little brief notoriety in the House Tuesday by a most indecent though covert assault on Speaker Carlisle, who is acknowledged by every decent republican to be absolutely the fairest man that ever presided over Congress. He then launched forth into the bitterest abuse of the Southern people and raved and snorted because Gens. Lee, Beauregard and others were not hung at the close of the war. It is dollars to cents that the fellow is a bigger coward than Chandler and that he would take his whipping like a cur, if some Southerner should deign to point his hands with him.

JOE BLACKBURN'S victory over Ingalls in their war of words and his contemptuous treatment of Chandler, whose aural appendage he placed in chancery after giving him a piece of his mind, has made him mighty solid in Kentucky, and we would not be surprised to see him elected his own successor without opposition. He is a brave and brainy fellow, slow to give an affront and quick to resent one, but too magnanimous to harbor ill-feeling. He is in fact a mighty good all-around Kentuckian, who is both willing and capable of taking care of himself and his on all occasions, and we see no objection to keeping him where he can do so most effectively.

It is a rule of this office that even the devil shall always receive his due, so we hasten to give Senator Ingalls credit for a most eloquent and touching eulogy of the dead Congressman from Missouri—Mr. Burnes. It shows that away in some secret recess of the attenuated form of the vinegarish Kansan, there is a heart capable of giving expressions of love and sorrow as well as of bitterness and gall. The address shows also that the Senator is much more in love with a dead democrat than he has ever been accused of being with a live one.

The recent act increasing the pension of soldiers who lost both arms to $100 per month affects but 18 persons. There is one man on the pension rolls that has neither feet nor hands. The government cannot pay these poor fellows too much, for their sufferings and inconveniences cannot be compensated in dollars and cents. But it would look much more like the eternal fitness of things to give them $5,000 a year than the rich widows of Gens. Logan, Sheridan and others, tho' it is not quite so polite to do so.

A MAN in Coffeyville, Kas., has petitioned the legislature to eliminate the him from his name, which is the ugliest of names, and make him plain Mr. Berger. We'll venture the name is as good as the man, and when the truth is known he has other reasons than the one he gives for wanting it changed. A rose by any other name would smell as well and Linberger will no doubt smell as bad no matter how his name is written.

The general renews to Col. W. T. Havens, of the Mt. Sterling Sentinel, assurances of his most distinguished consideration and begs leave to inquire what the initials stand for that he used in connection with his name?

The Cara Pryor troupe plays the first half of next week at Danville and the last half here at popular prices—25, 35 and 50 cents, the latter for reserved seats.

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL is 17 years old to-day, 14 of which it has been under the pen at management. We are beginning to be one of the veterans.

—Pat Hunt, whose wife is serving a term in the penitentiary for the murder he committed, assassinated another man in Paris Sunday night—James Abnee, the principal witness against them on the first trial. Hunt is in jail with a prospect of Judge Lynch taking a hand in his case.

—Twenty-five years ago W. B. Westcott, of Troy, N. Y., deserted Miss Jane Trueman for a newer love. He was married to the latter and Miss Trueman consoled herself by suing her, receding lover and obtaining damages. Not long ago Mr. Westcott became a widower and as soon as decency would permit he laid siege to the heart of the woman he had wronged and she never having been able to smother the lingering spark, woman-like, surrendered it entirely to him and they were made one on Tuesday. The old rascal is 69 and his bride 58.

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

—Big lot of baled timothy hay for sale. D. B. Stagg, Jr.

—John N. Menefee bought of Jones Bros. 1 yoke cattle for $100.

—F. K. Tribble bought of J. F. Pulliam a 3-year-old mule for $105.

—R. T. Jones, of Pulaski, bought of Jones Bros. a bunch of yearling heifers at $13.

—E. P. Woods sold to Wm. Gentry, of Missouri, his trotting stallion, Bartholdi, for $850.

—White Brothers, of Fayette, bought of J. T. Stephens a young buggy mare for $200.

—D. N. Prewitt bought in the West End a bunch of 2 and 3-year-old cattle at 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 cents.

—A. T. Nunnally sold to I. M. Bruce a harness mare for $125 and one to Dr. Steele Bailey for $135.

—J. T. Wilson, of Mercer, sold to J. P. Land a combined gelding by Abdallah Messenger for $400.

—The tobacco growers again met in Lexington, Tuesday, and resolved to reduce the next crop 50 per cent.

—The sale of the late Geo. W. James' land and personal property will occur on the premises, at Crab Orchard, to-morrow.

—J. C. Woodward, of Fayette, has leased his farm of 424 acres for five years for $3,000, to Mr. Schultz, a horseman from the North.

—Horsemen will please note that this office is prepared to serve them with any kind of printing for horses and jacks and give us a call.

—Miller & Carpenter sold to Henry Hester 28 acres of the old Hickman farm, on Dix river, now owned by Elijah Withers, for $600.

—J. H. Watkins, of Western Tennessee, bought in this, Garrard and Boyle counties a couple of car loads of young mules at $82 to $97 per head.

—M. H. Haggard has bought in Clark county during the past week 1,000 lambs at 5 1/2 cents for June and 5 1/2 cents for July delivery.—Georgetown Times.

—There is no change in the Cincinnati cattle market, highest and lowest prices being 1 1/2 to 4 cents; hogs are quoted at 4 to 4.85 and sheep at 2 1/2 to 5.

—James W. Givens has returned from Mississippi after disposing of a car-load of mules at fair prices, though he found the supply greater than the demand and trade consequently slow.

—R. D. Holtzclaw sold to T. L. Shelton a car-load of baled hay and straw at 80 cents for the former and 40 for the latter. Mr. Holtzclaw bought of Mrs. Hun Singleton 28 stacks of hay for $300.

—The combination sale of trotters, which has been in progress at Lexington for the past two weeks, closed Tuesday. During the time 187 trotters were sold for $482,820, an average of $480 per head.

—More tobacco remains unsold in the hands of planters in Clark than was ever before known at this time of the year, and there still seems but little disposition for dealers and planters to agree upon prices. The ruling prices offered are from 7 to 10 cents.—Democrat.

—Winchester county court was a dull one; 46 head of 1,000-lb. feeders were sold at $3; 15 head of 1,200-lb. choice feeders at $4; 20 head of plain 1,000-lb. steers at $3.10; 12 head of 800-lb. steers at $20 per head. About 200 work mules offered, but few sales made.—Sun.

—Adam Carpenter bought of a Fayette county party the 3-year-old stallion, Nailer, by Sultan, out of a Rysdyk Hambletonian mare, for $1,500. His breeding is identical with that of Stamboul, who sold for $50,000 at Woodward's sale last week. He will stand him at Lexington.

—Latonia has sold her betting privilege to the Western Bookmakers' Association and this in the face of the fact that the Turf Congress, of which the Latonia Association is a member, passed a rigid rule at its New York meeting excluding the members of bookmaking associations from such privileges.—Ex.

—Mike Elkin says he has ruined his business by giving away how much he makes on butchering a sheep, for the farmers will want to charge him double price now. He got ahead of Sam Embury pretty well the other day all the same. He bought a sheep from him for $4 and sold him a hind quarter for $2.50, leaving him the other three-quarters, the hide, wool, tallow, &c., to get his $1.50 back on.

—G. G. White & Co. lost 581 hogs out of 761 by pneumonia and sold the dead ones at 45 cents each to a Cincinnati soap factory. Col. Stoner refused an offer of $50,000 for Baron Wilkes, at Lexington, last week, and positively refused to price him to an Eastern syndicate. C. R. Turner sold a fine jack to H. S. Berry for $1,000 and Monroe Leer sold his jack, Napoleon, to a Missouri man for $1,700.

—Paris News.

—The tobacco delegation, which waited on Speaker Carlisle Tuesday got cold comfort. He politely told them that he stood squarely on the democratic platform and by the principles of the president's message, upon which the recent contest was fought, and that he did not intend to surrender any of those principles. He was only in favor of free tobacco when he could have free wool or its equivalent, and would use all the power of his position, given to him under the rules of the House, to prevent the passage of the free tobacco bill and only until a majority of those who elected him declared for a suspension of the rules so that a vote could be taken would he order it.

PERSONAL POINTS.

JOHNIE AMON is very ill with fever.

Mrs. Dr. O. H. McRoberts is visiting her mother at Liberty.

Dr. A. J. Knapp, the optician, will be here again next Monday, 4th.

Mr. D. R. Carpenter is working insurance at Somerset this week.

Judge Walker and Squire Kinnaird, of Lancaster, were in town yesterday.

Wallace Guthrie has gone to Hazel Patch to take charge of the railroad office.

Mrs. Margaret Dunn, of Lancaster, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Thomas Richards.

Mrs. Richard Gentry, of Wichita, Kansas, is visiting his mother, Mrs. R. R. Gentry.

Mrs. Bud Cotton, of Kirksville, is visiting Mrs. Annie Jones and Mrs. B. K. Weare.

Mr. T. L. Hocker, steward of the Lexington Lunatic Asylum, was the guest of Mr. J. S. Hocker.

Mrs. R. G. Hopkins and daughter, Miss Josephine, of Pembroke, are visiting at Mr. G. W. Tribble's.

Geo. D. Bennett smoked his "pipe of peace" at home with his family on Sunday.—Omaha Bee, Feb. 18.

George Bosse, one of our prompt German subscribers, was in to see us yesterday and reports the colonists at Ottenheim doing reasonably well.

Mr. R. D. Padgett, the newly married young merchant of Eubanks, was here yesterday, satisfied that marriage is not a failure so far as he has gone.

Mr. Ed C. Walton, business manager of the Stanford Interior Journal, is representing Editor Walton at the meeting of the Press Committee.—Louisville Times.

Mr. J. Clyde Lindsey, who makes a specialty of writing up towns, is the guest of his brother, Wm. Lindsey, who recently moved to the Helm place in the East End.

Prof. M. L. Lipscomb, who married a daughter of Mr. James Robinson, our countyman, has accepted the position of Professor of Science in the Columbia, Mo., State College.

Mr. Malcolm Luckey, of Richmond, is visiting his aunt, Mrs. J. J. McRoberts. He showed us a sample of his crayon portrait work, which evinces the workmanship of a true artist.

Dr. A. S. Cook, of Monticello, is here again and the indications are that we will soon lose one of our handsome widows. The Dr. proves his good taste by making frequent visits to this place.

Gen. W. O. Bradley was in town Tuesday, but failed to pay his usual call at this office. Can it be possible that the general has gone back on us because Harrison has gone back on him. Perish the thought!

CITY AND VICINITY.

New kid gloves. Severance & Son.

Northern Seed Oats at W. H. Higgins.

Sine & Menefee are building an office on their lumber yard on Depot street.

If you want a carpet in the spring buy it now and save money. S. L. Powers & Co.

Bonnett will speak at the court-house Monday on everything in and out of sight.

I will pay highest market price for beef hides and all kinds of fur. M. F. Elkin.

New wall paper now in with borders 20 inches wide to match. Call and see them. Owsley & Craig.

H. C. Rupley has the finest line of suitings he has ever brought to this city. Call on him and he will show you through.

New lot of spring styles in hats at Severance & Son's.

Car-load nice northern seed oats at Metcalf & Foster's.

SEVENTY-FIVE cent carpets now 48 cts. at S. L. Powers & Co.'s.

MAKE your room pretty with a new carpet. Now half price at S. L. Powers & Co.'s.

Those owing us will please call and settle their accounts Monday, as we need the money for immediate use. Bruce & McRoberts.

WALLACE WITHERS killed a ground hog yesterday. The noted citizen had broken the time-honored rule and met with the above fate.

Mr. H. C. Rupley is getting the lumber on the ground to build a residence on the lot recently purchased on lower Main street of J. M. Hall.

WATT DUDDEKAR has fitted up his water mill on Dix river with machinery for making roller process flour. The machinery arrived yesterday.

MISS MAGGIE BROWN will begin her subscription school at White Oak next Monday, the 4th, and she desires very much that all the patrons shall start their children the first day.

Our new line of carpets now is ranging from 15, 20, 25, 35, 45, 50, 60 and 75 cents. Also full line of Brussels at 75 cents. Summer rugs 65 cents to a very large size for $3. Owsley & Craig.

Mr. A. A. McKinney has rented to Messrs. A. J. Sigler and W. A. Carson, both Crab Orchard parties, his store-room at that place. These gentlemen will open at once a stock of merchandise.

An extra freight train from Junction City ran into a caboose at Rowland Tuesday night, tearing it to pieces and knocking a number of box cars off the track. The fault seems to rest upon the flagman, who left the switch open.

The fame of A. R. Penny's drug store has extended far and wide. Last week he filled an order for drugs from one of the territories and yesterday he shipped a bill to British Honduras on the order of a gentleman there. Advertising pays.

MORTGAGES.—County Clerk G. B. Cooper tells us that his books show that during the months of January and February more mortgages were given than in the same length of time in the last ten years. This is not an evidence of prosperity and we are sorry to see that our people find it necessary to thus encumber their farms.

WINTER time went glimmering at 12 last night and according to the Song of Solomon, "The time of the singing of birds is come and the voice of the turtle is heard in our land." Should the old rascal winter persist however in lingering in the luscious lap of spring, there's going to be some kicking, but it will be of that useless kind spoken of in Acts 9:5.

THE Cara Pryor Combination which comes to us guaranteed as a strong attraction, will appear here three nights and one matinee, beginning Thursday, March 7th. Its repertoire consists of such comedies as "Maud Muller," "Old Side Pards," &c. The Owensboro papers describe Miss Cara as an excellent little sourette, who sings sweetly and dances cleverly.

THE C. S. trains are now running on their own line on schedule time. Mr. George Irwin, who returned from there Tuesday, tells us that the new track around the tunnel is in good condition but it takes two engines to take over a train of 10 cars, the grade for a part of the way being at the rate of 265 feet to the mile. The fire in the tunnel is out and the work of re-arching has commenced.

Mr. E. R. Odor, State Agent, received a check for $3,000 Wednesday, payable to the family of Mr. Lail, of Lexington, who died in a little over a year after taking a tontine policy in the New York Life, upon which only $128 had been paid. The tontine comes a little higher, but it is a policy upon which you do not have to die to win as you get the full amount yourself, if you live, in from 10 to 20 years as you may select. In case of death the full amount becomes payable, whether you have made one or a dozen payments. Mr. Odor went to Paris yesterday, but he will be back Tuesday to give all a chance to take a policy in his excellent company.

THE Lebanon Standard advises democratic office holders not to resign as by so doing they will injure the party as well as themselves. It wants Mr. Harrison to show his sincerity on the civil service law, to the enforcement of which he is bound both by his own utterances and the platform on which he was elected. Mr. Cleveland has so performed his pledges with regard to it that there are now 30,000 republicans holding office under him and it would be the poorest sort of practical politics to save him from the ordeal which Cleveland went through alone—the ordeal of choosing between political friends and announced political principles. We heartily concur with the Standard that every officeholder should stay at his post and do his duty as becomes an honest man.

SEED Irish Potatoes at Metcalf & Foster's.

LANDRETH, Petty & Co.'s and Crossman's Garden Seeds at A. A. Warren's "Model Grocery."

WALL PAPER, wall paper at B. K. Weare's in new styles from the cheapest to the highest.

COME in court day and leave your orders for some of the Northern seed oats we have in stock. Metcalf & Foster.

NICE, new four-room cottage with back lattice veranda and pantry for rent. Call on J. J. McRoberts at First National Bank.

A CIRCULAR from Gen. Pass. Agent, S. F. B. Morse, says: On and after Friday, March 1, 1889, passenger trains of the Kentucky Central will arrive at and depart from the Central Union passenger station, Cincinnati.

THE result of the trial of the suit of A. M. Feland against John M. White and others is a decided victory for the plaintiff, although the verdict was for but $100. This carries with it the costs which amount to many times that amount.

It is a favorable sign that there are no short horses offering for the legislature in this county. The democracy will in consequence be free to nominate some acceptable man and demand that he make the race which is sure to be won even with partial effort.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Rev. Bronston, of Louisville, will preach at the Baptist church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

—Rev. Dr. H. Allen Tupper, Jr., has been elected to deliver the Richmond College Literary Society's oration.

—The revival meeting at the Baptist church closed last Sunday night with 52 additions to the church.—Breckenridge News.

—Virginia, the infant daughter of Dr. and Mrs. M. L. Bourne, was baptized by Rev. Mr. Helm at the Wednesday night's prayer meeting.

—Rev. F. D. Hale's revival at the Baptist church continues. There are already 42 accessions and the interest remains unabated.—Owensboro Messenger.

—There have been 649 conversions and 550 additions to the Methodist church, in the bounds of the Owensboro district, since the meeting of the annual conference in October last.—Inquirer.

—Rev. Steve Holcomb, the converted Louisville gambler and bad man generally, is assisting in a meeting at the Nicholasville Methodist church, to which there had been 25 additions to last accounts.

—Rev. Joseph M. Evans passed from his seven weeks' absence at Bowling Green and McHenry. At the former place he had 92 additions and raised $400 for evangelistic purposes. At the latter place 44 and $1,000 raised for a church.—Paris News.

—Evangelist Barnes after circumnavigating the globe, preaching divers and sundry doctrines and discovering the ten lost tribes of Israel, has homesteaded a little island near the Florida land's end and set about establishing a local habitation and name.—Louisville Times.

—Rev. G. W. Dennis writes from Jeffersonville, Ind., under the date of Feb. 24th: "My meeting closed last night. Bro. Keane was with me the last two weeks. Resulted in 97 happy conversions. My people say the best meeting they ever had. Some men converted that were 76 years old."—Cloverport News.

MT. VERNON, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

—Mumps are raging at Orlando; whooping cough here.

—Isaiah Price, aged 75, died Tuesday evening of paralysis.

—W. G. Proctor has built a new store-house at Quail, this county.

—The school-house in Copper Creek district was burned; caught from flue.

—Harvey Burnett bought a farm of Parker Anderson, seven miles north of this place, for $1,500.

—Mark Brown sold a 5-year-old mare for $15. Hogs dying with cholera in Freedom neighborhood.

—A four-year-old child of John Taylor had its clothing ignited at an open fireplace and was badly burned.

—Tom Hutcheson worked the bell chord on some of the C. S. passenger trains lately running over this line.

—S. W. Parris and James Houk are going into the mercantile business. They are now in the city laying in their stock.

—John Linton and Miss Jennie E. McCarty were married in Louisville Thursday. Both had formerly lived at this place.

—From 25 to 30 trains have been running daily while the C. S. blockade was on and day operators had to put in both day and night.

—L. B. Adams requests us to say that the trade of stock of merchandise to Jack Adams, Jr., as spoken of in last paper, was not closed.

—An epidemic of cerebro-spinal meningitis is raging in Webster county. The disease has been extraordinarily fatal, and there have been 55 deaths since January 1. It is similar to the epidemic which swept over New England a few years ago and known as the "black death."

—Mrs. Eliza McGuire, of Clark county, is visiting relatives in this county.

—Mrs. Lizzie Butler, of Brothead, is still very low with consumption. M. McCormick, of Conway, was in town Thursday.

Tom Stewart is back from Illinois, where he went to get the Bailey brothers, James McKenzie was in the city Monday.

—The Bailey brothers, who were tried before a magistrate near Reedville, this county, a year since, on the charge of ku-kluxing, and who afterward made their escape, were captured in Illinois last week and brought here Thursday and jailed. An old and respectable widow woman named Morgan and her two daughters were beaten at the time by a band of six or eight men on no particular charge at all except Mr. Morgan, a good man, had died and left them defenseless with no male relatives to take their part.

—J. T. Harraban will succeed Mr. Odell as manager of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad.

—A deal has been closed with Eastern capitalists whereby $1,300,000 is to be invested in coal and iron lands near Chattanooga, Tenn.
